

If you're visiting our nation's capital, my office stands ready to help you plan a memorable trip.

My staff can help identify and reserve tours for many of the most popular sites in Washington including the White House, the National Archives, the Library of Congress, the Supreme Court, the Pentagon, the Kennedy Center and the Department of State Diplomatic Reception Rooms.

Please note that many of these tours fill up fast. White House tours begin filling up six months in advance of tour dates, and even some of those requests can't be filled. So contact my office as soon as possible.

In addition to the tours above, my office can offer you a VIP tour of the U.S. Capitol. Capitol tours are offered on most weekdays and provide an up-close look at the federal government. The Capitol is filled with remarkable artwork, timeless political tales and an inspiring history that shouldn't be missed.

After your Capitol tour, a member of my staff will escort you to the House Gallery where you can watch the House of Representatives debate issues and vote on legislation.

Please visit my website's tour request page at farr.house.gov/tours to begin planning your trip.
